August 15

8:00 - 8:30 – Check in/ Breakfast

8:30 – 12:00 – Session 1 – Introduction to Digital Forensics

Attendees will learn how to properly seize and analyze electronic evidence. The course will cover protecting the integrity of digital evidence, maintaining the chain of custody, creating forensic images, analyzing evidence, and reporting relevant findings. Students will have the opportunity to participate in practical exercises to gain hands-on experience with handling electronic evidence and using digital forensics tools. Attendees will be provided with resources that they can use when handling incidents that involve electronic evidence.

12:00 - 12:45 – Lunch

12:45 - 4:15 – Session 2 – Open Source Intelligence (OSINT) using Maltego

In the digital age, the ability to gather information from publicly available sources is invaluable for cybersecurity professionals. This presentation introduces participants to the powerful capabilities of Maltego, a renowned tool for conducting open source intelligence (OSINT). Attendees will explore how Maltego can be leveraged to uncover and visualize complex networks of information from diverse data sources, enabling more effective threat intelligence, incident response, and security assessments. Through live demonstrations, we will illustrate the process of gathering, linking, and analyzing data, showcasing Maltego's utility in identifying vulnerabilities and potential threats. Participants will leave with a solid foundation in OSINT principles and hands-on experience in utilizing Maltego to enhance their cybersecurity strategies.
